Growing Home Southeast

Brennon Graham currently serves as President and CEO of Growing Home Southeast, where he is responsible for a continuum of services including all levels of foster care, community based mental health/behavioral health services, transitional housing, and family crisis prevention services throughout South Carolina. He has enjoyed a human services career that spans more than 25 years, serving at risk youth and families in the areas of homelessness, mental health/behavioral health, substance abuse, and developmental disabilities. Prior to his current role, Brennon served as Executive Director of The Relatives, Inc. in Charlotte, NC for nearly 12 years. He worked to build on the organization's foundation as a shelter for runaway and homeless youth to create a continuum of services for more than 4000 children and families each year.

Brennon has held key positions as Business Relations Executive, Director of Quality Assurance, Manager of Residential Services, and various youth direct service roles. Brennon currently serves on the board of directors for the National Network for Youth, the Family Focused Treatment Association, and the Midlands Area Consortium for the Homeless. He previously served as Board Chair for the North Carolina Coalition to End Homelessness.

Brennon holds a Master of Business Administration degree and a Master of Health Administration degree from Pfeiffer University, as well as a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Winthrop University.
