

Charles Weathers

The Weathers Group

As founder of The Weathers Group, a management consulting firm specializing in organizational performance and leadership development, Charles is a nationally recognized speaker, writer and consultant. He is known for his ability to help groups navigate difficult conversations while captivating audiences with his contagious energy, insight and humor. Weathers is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force, an American Leadership Forum Senior Fellow, a Riley Diversity Fellow (Furman University), a member of the Institute of Management Consultants and a member of the National Speakers Association. In his mission to positively impact lives, Weathers has made headlines by lending his voice to disruptive companies in the nonprofit, government and private sectors. Since 2003, The Weathers Group, under Charles' leadership, has developed customized solutions for clients ranging from grassroots community organizations to billion-dollar business enterprises. His work has touched the lives of leading executives at TD Bank, BASF Corporation, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) and countless public/private entities across the globe. Charles enjoys volunteering with numerous organizations and is a proud board member of Goodwill Industries of the Upstate/Midlands of SC. A trusted advisor and coach, he and his family reside in Columbia, South Carolina. You can follow Charles on social media channels at @CharlesWeathers